

Portland Area Bible Students
Volume 1 - Sundays - May - Starting page = 336
The Divine Plan of the Ages
STUDY XV - The Day Of Jehovah

Each of the sections below is summarized with a central point. After reading, participation is open to how you understand the material, substantiation, evidence, examples, or your own questions

336:2-3

This Day of Trouble is located chronologically in the beginning of the glorious Millennial reign of Messiah. How does preparing for the coming restitution work precipitate this trouble? Why does labor saving technology result in trouble during the Day of Jehovah?

337:1-2

This is God's due time for lifting the veil of ignorance letting in intelligence and invention. What may have likely been the situation if this veil was lifted well before the Lord's return as king? In what ways does the lifting now prepare mankind for the coming restitution and resurrection?

Duty and Privilege of the Saints

338:2-3

The last of the saints will still be here for at least part of this trouble. How is their perspective quite different from others of the world even though they also suffer under it?

339:1

But godliness with contentment is great gain. (1 Timothy 6:6)

The present exceeds in bountiful supply, yet the people are unhappy and discontented. Why?

339:2-3

The saints should take no part in the struggle for wealth. Why should the saints have contentment with their godliness?

340:1-3

What do we find in the context of 1 Tim 6:6-12 to help us abandon the strife of greed and vainglory?

341:1-3

The example of the saints can be an ointment and healing balm.

How can we be an example and offer good counsel to the world struggling under this trouble?

Are there types of interactions we should avoid?

How does Isa 52:7 fit into this lesson?